(excerpts from a recent letter)

Greetings praying friends. Summer is over, and it seems to have gone all too fast. Our kids all started their first day of school today, and it's back into all the busyness that comes with the school season. Although our schedule gets much busier during the school year, with the busyness also comes a sense of structure, routine, and plenty of gospel opportunities.

For our kids, opportunities abound during the school year, and even though we are currently navigating three different school scenarios for our four kids, they each have their own challenges and benefits.

With all the structure of the school year also comes more structure in our ministry schedule. As we move into the fall, Joe will be getting more involved in the refugee shelters, his conversational English classes will resume, and various other regularly scheduled outreach opportunities will fall into place. From a church-ministry standpoint, we will be starting up a midweek prayer meeting, and we will soon be scheduling a midweek Bible study for the men and for the ladies. Joe will be trying to invest more regularly for one on one discipleship with some of the guys in the church as well, and will be helping to equip them to serve the Lord in various capacities.

Please pray for the Lord to bless in all these things, and that he gives us strength, good health, discipline, and endurance to keep up with our busy schedule

As always, thank you for your prayers and support.

*Joe, Kerri, Ethan, Brynne,
Madelynn, and Corban Stinson*
