SAV:

Planting the right kind of seeds in your family is very important. Let's talk about three very important seeds that all healthy families must plant.

The first seed is TIME. Healthy families must make spending quality time together a priority. We can't settle for accidental time.

The second seed is AFFIRMATION. Healthy families don't plant seeds of hateful, mean words. Those seeds cause terrible things to grow in a family.

Finally, PRAYER. We must make praying for each other a priority. Prayer must be something that is a part of our daily lives together as a family.

If we will plant these seeds in our family, we will enjoy a wonderful harvest for years to come.

PRAY:

Lead your children in prayer for your family. Challenge your children to plant TIME, AFFIRMATION, and PRAYER in your family this week!
