1. Recently, pastor Joshua got the privilege to take one of the young adults to a conference focused on prayer. One of the encouraging and convicting truths he came back with is that prayer is often the easiest, most accessible, humbling, and powerful things a Christian can do to cultivate his relationship with God, and sadly we neglect to make it a priority. How has your prayer life been shaped recently? How do you see occasional (1 Thess 5:17) and dedicated (Luke 5:16) prayer taking place in your life?
2. Before the fall Adam and Eve were naked and not ashamed (Gen 2:25) but because of the fall their eyes were opened to sin and they knew they were naked (Gen 3:7) and hid themselves from God (Gen 3:10). How does our understanding of sin (the study of sin is called hamartiology) get shaped by what Noah did (Gen 9:20–21) and what his sons did (Gen 9:22–23)?

5. While one passage is not a full treaty on drunkenness, Genesis 9:20 does highlight that Noah's drinking was in excess and he became drunk. What other passages have shaped your thinking on drunkenness?
