Week 3 Study Guide

Main Point: Selfishness is the root of all sin and if we're being honest, we all struggle with selfishness and sin on a daily basis. We will never be 'good enough' and our only hope for eternal salvation is the LOVE of Jesus Christ. A hurting heart in a broken world is the perfect opportunity for us believers to share the love and hope of Christ with the world around us and to increasingly give our hearts, strength, and lives to God's plan and purpose.

In an honest self-evaluation, what is it that you love MOST in the world? How do you show that love to whoever/whatever it may be that you love?

If your love, time, and money was to be 'audited' what would it show?

Desire + Action = Transformation

Our heart and our hands must work together. Even with our heart fully devoted and our hands busy with the Lord's work, there will be struggles. Consider memorizing 2 Timothy 3:12 this week:

"Yes, and everyone who wants to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will suffer persecution."
