

Week 7

Trinity 14

Greetings from 2nd grade! This week we wrapped up our math unit on rounding to the nearest ten, enjoyed a history lesson about the Tale of Gilgamesh while talking about how stories often change as they are passed down from generation to generation, and did a science experiment on how pitch changes with the thickness and length of a string. Johnny Appleseed was the subject of our literature lesson this week and we did a deep dive into his life, sorting the man from the myth, as well as tasted all things apple!

Mrs. Lazenby's and our class will be combining for the scarecrow contest! Our theme this year is Jesus Feeds the 5,000. Each student will be asked to make a pumpkin that resembles themselves. There will be more details to come next week.

We will have library on Tuesday (9/23) so have your scholar remember to bring their library books back to avoid late fees and so that they may check out another book.

Please make sure to send your scholar with a water bottle and a snack daily. Hungry tummies make learning difficult.

Green homework folders, literature books, and planners should come back to school with your scholar daily.

The parent newsletter from the school is jam-packed with information, so make sure to read through it for important events and dates.

Yours in Christ,

Gillian Wagner-Main

Memory for the week of September 22nd:

What does God say about all the commandments?

He says, "I the Lord your God, am a jealous God, punishing the children for the sin of the fathers to the third and fourth generation of those who hate Me, but showing love to a thousand generations of those who love me and keep my commandments."

What does this mean?

God threatens to punish all who break these commandments. Therefore, we should fear his wrath and not do anything against them. But He promises grace and every blessing to all who keep these commandments. Therefore, we should also love and trust in Him and gladly do what he commands.
