OUTDOOR LEARNING

- What is erosion? There are many types of erosion – ice, wind, rain, coastal, tunnel – but here, in Houston, we mostly have rain erosion. We watched a short video on how erosion occurs and how it affects animals and plants. Then we walked around campus and found actual areas of erosion. Some of these children have a good eye for nature and small details.

SCIENCE

- No science on Thursday – Teddy Bear Hunt day! In addition to the very scary and dangerous teddy bear hunt, we also watched a play – Goldilocks and the Three Bears. We made teddy bear snacks with rice cakes, Nutella, bananas, and chocolate chips. It was a beary busy day.
