

Hello Parents!

It's field trip week! I'm so excited to have this opportunity to go with the scholars this Thursday! We are going to have a great time. We have been learning all about possessive and subject pronouns and continue to show improvement. We're also continuing with Little House, column addition (this is where it is SO important to know our math facts!!), and we just wrapped up our study on the constellations. Thank you all for your donations for our school wide community project last week. Our work room was overflowing with lunches for children who often go hungry. Please remember to donate to our Eagle Fun for the whole class to receive a free dress pass!

Please note that weekly newsletters are posted in the school app.

We've been lacking in parent volunteers for Library on Fridays! Here is the link if you are available to volunteer: Library Sign Up!!

This Week:
