

Week 23

Septuagesima

This week we focused on writing a three-point explanatory paragraph in English, rounding to the nearest thousand in math, Aristotle’s ideas of the world around him in science, and how families on the early frontier prepared for the coming winter in Little House in the Big Woods. In history we learned about some of our favorite prophets, like Jonah, and how the city of Rome was founded only a few short years after his ministry. In religion, we finished the Old Testament and will begin with the Jesus’ childhood and the New Testament next week. The scholars enjoyed all the fun activities that were planned for National Lutheran School’s Week and beautifully sang hymns of salvation during their Joy Walk on Friday. How wonderful that we have a God who loves us so much that He gave us a Savior so that we can walk with him forever in heaven! Next Tuesday, your scholar will get to go visit the 3rd grade classrooms to meet the teachers and see what being a 3rd grader is all about. They are very excited.

I ask that you please look over the OSL dress code and make sure that your scholar is in compliance. I will be writing dress code violations for scholars who are out of uniform. Most common violations: shoes, jackets, no belt (with bottoms that have belt loops), hair accessories, chapel shoes not on chapel day. Please make sure both tops and bottoms are from Flynn O’Hara.

Please make sure to send your child with a morning snack and their water bottle. Hungry tummies make learning hard. I sometimes have extra fruit that I bring to give to those who did not bring a snack, but not often. There is quite a stretch between breakfast and lunch!

Please read the parent newsletter from OSL so you don’t miss any important information or exciting opportunities! This week please be on the lookout for these important events: I will post the dates below in the Notable News and Announcements section. If you have any questions, I am happy to answer them, or you can direct them to the OSL 2nd grade WhatsApp!

Yours in Christ,

Gillian Wagner-Main
