Seventh Literature

The Old Man and the Sea
by Ernest Hemingway

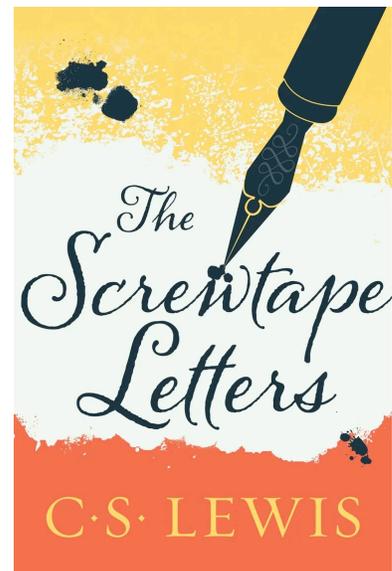

Santiago is obsessed with worthiness. He knows the great fish is worthy, but is he worth of catching this fish? Hemingway uses Santiago's inner conflict to describe a "good man." A good man has determination, perseverance, and endurance. A good man never quits and does what he is supposed to do.

Eighth Literature

The Screwtape Letters by C.S. Lewis

C.S. Lewis wrote a series of epistles, or letters, from the perspective of the demon Screwtape to his nephew Wormwood. The letters we read are a very interesting look at how Christians need to think and live; otherwise we are easy targets for the demons. Our class discussions tend to be very thought provoking.
