OUTDOOR LEARNING

We were on a field trip to the Houston Fire Museum, so we didn't do an "Outdoor Learning" activity on Tuesday, but our Science on Thursday blended into Outdoor Learning – about ladybugs!

SCIENCE

Ladybugs! We looked at the parts of a ladybug and discussed the life cycle. We watched a short video on how ladybugs help our gardens and God's creation. We looked at them under a microscope (thank you, Mr. Prestwood, for letting us borrow some topnotch microscopes) as well as a few other interesting insects. We took the ladybugs outside (all 700 of them!) and released them in a garden area near the playground; tiny heroes that protect the garden from pests.
