Seventh Literature

The Old Man and the Sea
by Ernest Hemingway

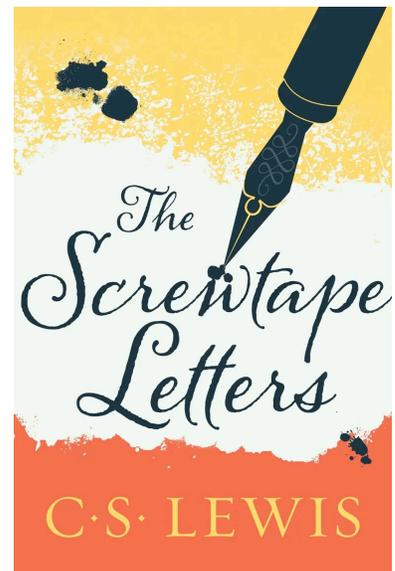

Santiago finally returned to the village- in worse shape than when he left. His great fish is only a skeleton. Ernest Hemingway has used Santiago to show us the qualities of a good person, especially perseverance, determination, and endurance.

Eighth Literature

The Screwtape Letters by C.S. Lewis

The first letter of The Screwtape Letters was written about keeping the patient distracted. Screwtape suggests that Wormwood not use Argument and Logic with the patient. Since God is the creator of Logic, the demons stand little chance of succeeding. Letter #2 discussed The Church. The church can be very distracting if we allow it to be.

Seventh Grade Progym

The Seventh Graders are finishing up their own modern fable. We discussed fable morals, character archetypes, plot components, and story elements.

The Final Draft is due 1/23.

Eighth Grade Progym

The Eighth Graders are writing a Chreia essay to explain Daniel Webster's quote, "Whatever makes men good Christians makes them good citizens."

The Final Draft is due 1/23.

The next Chreia essay will explain a historical quote of their choosing.
