Fantastic Fourteenth Week!

This last week was a busy week as we had tests to take and retake, but the scholars are getting a handle on this and are doing much better! Next week, we will continue reading Farmer Boy, learning our multiplication tables, and learning another part of speech in grammar - the pronoun. As we look toward the holiday season quickly approaching, please remember to be vigilant about asking your child about homework, tests, and important things they have learned in school. No great connection is made between a parent and a child than when an interest is shown in each other's lives!

MATH

Last week, we learned how to skip count by 3's and what ways we could use this in the real world. Next week, we will continue as we learn the 3's multiplication table. Test on Friday, November 14.

GOOD NEWS!

Every scholar made above a 94 on this week's test! I am so proud of them!

GRAMMAR

Last week, we continued to write summaries of excerpts from Farmer Boy. Next week, we will resume with grammar as we learn about pronouns, subject pronouns, singular, plural, common, and proper nouns.

Joke of the Day: What is a pronoun? Answer: It is a noun who is not of amateur status!

LATIN

Last week, learned the chant for the Latin "to be" verb, sum. We have been practicing the chant and different vocabulary. Next week, we will continue this concept as it is one of the more challenging ideas to grasp.

"Oh sing to the LORD a new song,
for he has done
marvelous things!
His right hand
and his holy arm
have worked
salvation for him.
Psalm 98:1

- "As a father shows compassion to his children, so the LORD shows compassion to those who fear him."
Psalm 103:13
