~ I Ask You to Consider This ~

“God will invade. But I wonder whether people who ask God to interfere openly and directly in our world quite realise what it will be like when He does. When that happens, it is the end of the world.

When the author walks onto the stage, the play is over. God is going to invade, all right; but what is the good of saying you are on His side then, when you see the whole natural universe melting away like a dream and something else comes crashing in?

This time it will be God without disguise; something so overwhelming that it will strike either irresistible love or irresistible horror into every creature. It will be too late then to choose your side. That will not be the time for choosing; It will be the time when we discover which side we really have chosen, whether we realized it before or not.

Now, today, this moment, is our chance to choose the right side.

C.S. Lewis, Mere Christianity (New York: Simon and Schuster Touchstone, 1996), pp. 65–66.

Whether Christ returns in our lifetime or we are overtaken by death, we have only the present life in which to trust him and receive his offer of forgiveness and reconciliation with God.

In love, he continues to hold open the door, but we can delay only so long. For failure to choose is itself a choice—and one with momentous consequences.

“Behold, now is the favorable time; behold, now is the day of salvation.” - 2 Corinthians 6:2 (ESV)
