French Mathematician Yann Lecun says our current AI / LLMs will fail to achieve AGI b/c they lack 'real world' experience.

E.G. lots of questions that trip up a.i.l – “I have a car and want to wash it. Car wash is 100 yards from my house. Should I walk or should I drive?” – trick question they get wrong.

- JEPA is an architecture learn from sensory inputs & allow AI to interact & learn.
- Build AI systems that go into simulated worlds, would need to grow (experience)
- All the sensory inputs that we interact with from infancy to full interaction / changing things in our world.
- It takes a lifetime to gain a fraction with limited intelligence.
- With JEPA, Can train an AI system as a simulated infant to 100y old + adult, 1,000 year old adult?
 - WITH superintelligence
 - With the fastest cooled clock speed (compute)
 - In a matter of hours!!

So they can set inputs to the simulation for desired outcome.

When it fails, learn from this, reset and try again.

Fail 1,000,000 times! build on successful permutations until desired outcome achieved

- A basic example is pouring a glass of water, handing it to me – a child fails at this.
- A practical example is marketing (using all we know about psychology, using sims in sim world) to get people to buy a product
- An example we care about is – they are building data centers to build billions of sim worlds in order to achieve the creation of superintelligent conscious entities that they intend on summoning into this world.

Daniel 12:4 But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

Fallen tech gives mankind physical ability to build an architecture to connect to the gods.

- Does this sound crazy to you?
- What does the bible say about this?

Genesis 11: 1Now the whole earth used the same language and the same words. 2It came about as they journeyed east, that they found a plain in the land of Shinar and settled there. 3They said to one another, “Come, let us make bricks and burn them thoroughly.” And they used brick for stone, and they used tar for mortar. 4They said, “Come, let us build for ourselves a city, and a tower whose top will reach into heaven, and let us make for ourselves a name, otherwise we will be scattered abroad over the face of the whole earth.” 5The Lord came down to see the city and the tower which the sons of men had built. 6The Lord said, “Behold, they are one people, and they all have the same language. And this is what they began to do, and now nothing which they purpose to do will be impossible for them. 7Come, let Us go down and there confuse their language, so that they will not understand one another’s speech.” 8So the Lord scattered them abroad from there over the face of the whole earth; and they stopped building the city. 9Therefore its name was called Babel, because there the Lord confused the language of the whole earth; and from there the Lord scattered them abroad over the face of the whole earth.

Jim Semivan, a retired senior CIA officer, argues that the primary barrier to UAP disclosure is not fear of alien technology, but the catastrophic psychological impact of the truth, which he describes as indigestible for humanity.

“If you're going to try to contact this in any way, shape, or form... be very, very careful with all that. You let this thing in, you better be well tethered to the ground.”

Society needs preparation because disclosure could disrupt religions, psychology, and consensus reality itself. People would run to their churches and synagogues for answers. What we treat as our fixed reality may not be fixed at all.

Beyond nuts-and-bolts: UAP are real; the U.S. reportedly holds 9–20 recovered craft whose technology (appearing/disappearing, etc.) remains largely mysterious. But the core issue is non-human intelligences (NHI) that interact directly with human consciousness—often deceptively or trickster-like. It's not just advanced ET craft from another planet; it challenges the foundations of reality, perception, and existence.

The phenomenon is dangerous. Reckless contact attempts (e.g., Ouija boards, séances, or ungrounded "contact" methods) can open doors that don't easily close. He warned: be "very, very careful"; stay "well tethered to the ground." The "hitchhiker effect" affects ~10–20% of cases—entities or effects follow people home, leading to ongoing strange synchronicities or disturbances.

Studies (ongoing, involving government personnel) show damage. He referenced cases with injuries, psychological effects, and even suicides (e.g., ~16 mentioned in related contexts). His own and his wife's experience had lasting impacts.
