

A dramatic landscape at sunset. In the background, three crosses stand on a rocky hill against a sky filled with orange and red clouds. The sun is low on the horizon, casting a warm glow. In the foreground, a man and a woman are shown in profile, looking towards the horizon. The woman is wearing a white winter hat and glasses, and the man is wearing a dark suit. They appear to be in prayer or contemplation.

10:39. The people and the Levites must bring these offerings of grain, new wine, and olive oil to the storerooms and place them in the sacred containers near the ministering priests, the gatekeepers, and the singers.

“We promise together not to neglect the Temple of our God.”

THE CALL

D.K. Samuel, Sr.

A chaplain on a battlefield came across a young man who was lying in a shell hole, seriously wounded. "Would you like me to read you something from this book, the Bible?" he asked. "I'm so thirsty; I'd rather have a drink of water," the soldier said. Hurrying away, the chaplain soon brought the water. Then the wounded man said, "Could you put something under my head?"

The chaplain took off his overcoat, rolled it up, and gently placed it under the man's head for a pillow. "Now," said the suffering man, "if I just had something over me I'm cold."

The chaplain immediately removed his jacket and put it over the wounded man to keep him warm. Then the soldier looked the chaplain straight in the eye and said, "If there's anything in that book that makes a man do for another all that you have done for me, then please read it, because I'd love to hear it."

- If my actions don't speak of gospel values, be sure my words never will.
- What affects people most is often caught rather than taught.
