1. What's the funniest, most awkward, or most unexpected conversation you've ever had about faith or religion? What made it memorable?
2. Jesus told the man He had healed to go home and tell his own people what God had done for him. How might our perspective change if we viewed our everyday relationships, workplaces, and activities as opportunities to represent Jesus?
3. What fears or assumptions most often keep Christians from sharing their faith? How does understanding that we're responsible for faithfulness, but God produces the growth, change the way we approach those conversations?
4. Read Colossians 4:5–6 and Romans 10:14–15. What might be keeping you from having a meaningful spiritual conversation with that person, and what is one intentional step you could take this week to move toward that opportunity?
5. What else did God say to you through this message?
