

The image features a silhouette of Jesus with long hair and a beard, kneeling on the left side of the frame. He has his hands outstretched towards three children who are running towards him from the right. The children are also in silhouette, with their hair and dresses appearing to be in motion. The background is a vibrant sunset or sunrise over a body of water, with a large tree on the far left. The sky transitions from a deep blue at the top to a bright orange and yellow near the horizon. A dark, rounded rectangular box is overlaid on the upper right portion of the image, containing white text. The overall mood is peaceful and welcoming.

Jesus said,
“let the little children
come to me.”

The image features a silhouette of Jesus with long hair and a beard, kneeling and reaching out with both hands towards three children. The children, two girls and one boy, are running towards him with their arms outstretched. They are positioned in front of a vibrant sunset sky with orange, yellow, and purple hues. A large tree silhouette is on the left, and a body of water with mountains is in the background. A dark rounded rectangle in the upper right contains the text.

What does the bible show us about Jesus and children?
