

An Extraordinary Invitation for Late Adopters

John 19:38–42

Meet

Sir Niall Ferguson

Ferguson marvels at the “educational benefit of going to church,” believes everyone “would be so much happier if they only went to church and opened their hearts to Christ,” and believes the western world is in “the very early phase of a Christian revival,” which will be the “antidote” to what has caused “so much harm” to society in the last number of decades.

Meet

Louise Perry

“During my research, I began to reach Christian conclusions against my will.”

“If Christianity is true sociologically, is it possible it is true supernaturally?”

Meet

Joseph of Arimathea

The Jesus he hid in his heart in life, he would publicly carry in his arms in death.

Meet

Nicodemus

Nicodemus poured a lifetime of devotion into the one moment he thought he had.
