Day 15

Understanding is the ability to translate meaning from facts. Understanding allows us to focus on the why of the matter and extract the principles we are meant to learn from our experiences. It's been said that in life you are given the test first and the lesson later, understanding is what helps you discern the lesson.

Day 15

God wants you to have understanding so that you are not led astray by misinformation. You gain understanding through your experiences but also the study of God's Word. Lean into godly understanding because it makes the difference. And it is so!

Day 15

Prayer:

Father, help me to lean on you for understanding. Help me to learn from you what you've meant for me to learn so that I can move forward in faith knowing that you give me the grace to move forward. Thank you for understanding, And It Is SO!
