

Greater Exploits

Scripture: The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former Haggai 2:9

We have journeyed together for quite some time, and in this time our capacity for greater has grown but so has our expectation. Be encouraged knowing that your latter will be greater! It may look bad right now, but greater is coming. Last time ended in sadness but this time you will see success. It's going to be greater, later! The seeds sown in last season are preparing you for harvest now! It's later now! Allow your expectation to be aligned with what God said, with who God is, and what He's done. You have capacity for greater. Let your expectation match the season you're looking toward. It's your season of greater!

Affirm: I am in my flourishing season!
Bigger, Better, Grander, GREATER!!

Pray: God, there is nothing too hard for you. Because you are the God of greater, and because you are the God of bigger, I can expect, bigger, better, grander, and greater in my life! I thank you for ushering me into my season of greater. Amen!
