From Our Corner

This week, we want to celebrate a special lady and her family in our church. Barbara Marshall Marsh went to her heavenly home this past December. She had been unable to attend our church services and events on a regular basis for several years. During earlier years, we knew that Barbara would be in her back pew, beautifully groomed, with a smile and surrounded by her children. Like Barbara, the boys would be in dress clothes. Little Noelle would be wearing a lovely dress with her beautiful blonde hair curling around her smiling face. Her husband, Jack was at the front doors, greeting us as we entered. The Marshes came to be a part of our congregation by way of an invitation issued by our beloved, Hugh Hallman. Jack and Hugh worked together for the telephone company and considered themselves to be "brothers of the heart". The Marshes met while Barbara was an airline stewardess. Their marriage was a balance of Jack, who never met a stranger, and Barbara, who was quiet and reserved. The couple were involved in their children's activities. As the children became adults, Barbara and Jack took pride in the boys' success and in Noelle's profession as a travelling nurse. Jack and Barbara welcomed the arrival of each of their grandchildren and enjoyed spending time with them...but as Barbara would say, "NOT as babysitters!" Just as they had done with their children, the Marsh grandchildren were in attendance at Sunday school and church each Sabbath. The Marsh family became a part of our church and Unity Community. They were loving and loved. We continue to look forward to seeing Jack, often accompanied by his twin grandsons, Dominic and Xander, and daughter, Noelle (as her work allows) enter into "God's courts with praises!"
