

Questioning Jesus

Week one - "A Whole New World"

John 3:1-21

Bottom line: Jesus didn't come to simply make my world better. He came to make the whole world better.

1. What questions do you have for Jesus—especially the ones you may be hesitant to say out loud?
2. Why do you think Nicodemus came to Jesus at night? Where do you relate to his uncertainty or desire to understand privately?
3. In what ways do we sometimes want Jesus to "fix our world" rather than transform us and restore the world more fully?
4. What might it mean for you personally to be "born again" by the Spirit—not just once, but continually?
5. How does the idea that eternal life begins now reshape the way you view a current hardship, hope, or decision?
6. Jesus came not to condemn the world, but to save it. How should that truth affect the way we approach people who are far from God—or ourselves when we fail?
7. What is one area of your life where you need new eyes to see what God may already be doing?
