

REACTIONS SPEAK LOUDER THAN WORDS

If God Is For You

Just because someone claims to be our enemy doesn't mean we must return the favor.

To Discuss

1. When was the last time you overreacted? Do you know someone who is a great over-underreactor? What makes you think that about them?
2. Do you know anyone who resists Christianity because of how a Christian reacted to them or how Christians react in general?
3. If to react is to submit, what emotions do you occasionally submit to that have no business ruling over you? Anger? Jealousy? Insecurity? Fear? Something else?
4. Read Romans 8:31–32 aloud. Is there someone you consider your enemy? Is there an opportunity to change your posture toward them?
5. What reaction pattern can you leverage this week to display your confidence that God is with you and for you?
