

Now What?

Welcome to week 10! By now, we assume you have plans to join a long-term Growth Group or to start one. If you don't have plans already, now is the time to do so.

So, what happens now? We are here to help you take the next step with Jesus. What that looks like in your life is going to be different for each person in each season. Maybe last week's discussion about serving in the church is where your next step. Maybe a long-term Growth Group is the step. Maybe you need to start giving of your time and finances. Maybe it's baptism or membership.

Whatever it is, the ending of this group is simply the beginning. We often look at events and milestones in our lives as the end or the accomplishment of something. That may be, but what if instead we looked at the ending of something instead as the beginning of something else? What if this is the beginning of an epic season of transformation by the Holy Spirit? What if this is the beginning of God using you to heavily impact somebody else's life?

The most important step you can take is the next one. Don't fall for the lie that we'll get around to it next week, or after this busy season, or next month when the weather warms up. I've been there. It doesn't work. If you need help with taking that next step, talk to your group leader or reach out to me or anyone else on staff.

Now, we ought to take a longer time of prayer this one last time, but before we do that, let us discuss:

- What are your plans for joining/creating a Growth Group?
- What is the next step for you?
