

Oh Holy Disruption

Week 4: The Wise Men – When Our Journey Leads to Worship

Scripture: Matthew 2:1-12

Small Groups

The Magi were seekers—open, humble, willing to follow God’s guidance one step at a time. Their journey led to joy and worship.

Herod was a controller—fearful, insecure, and determined to protect his own “kingdom.” His response led to paranoia, violence, and spiritual blindness.

- 1. The Heart-Level Contrast: What emotions drove the Magi’s actions? What emotions drove Herod’s? Which set of emotions do you relate to more in this season?
- 2. Control vs. Surrender: Where do you sense yourself striving to “protect your own kingdom” instead of trusting God with outcomes?
- 3. Worship vs. Self-Importance: In what subtle ways can we make life “about us”? What practices help re-center Jesus as King?
- 4. Guided by God or Driven by Fear: Do your major decisions tend to be guided more by God’s direction or by internal fear/anxiety?
- 5. The Joy Factor: Where have you recently experienced a glimpse of joy as a result of obedience or trust? What does that reveal about where real joy comes from?
- 6. When God Interrupts Your Plans: Do you respond more like the Magi (curiosity, trust) or Herod (defensiveness, fear) when God disrupts your expectations?
- 7. A Personal Kingdom Check: If someone observed your priorities, schedule, or decisions, what “kingdom” would they see you building?
