

A wide-angle photograph of a sunset over the ocean. The sun is a bright orange orb on the horizon, with its light reflecting as a shimmering path on the dark blue water. The sky is a deep blue, filled with large, dark, and textured clouds that catch the low light of the setting sun, giving them a purple and orange glow. In the foreground, a gentle wave with white foam is washing onto a sandy beach. A semi-transparent dark blue horizontal band is positioned across the middle of the image, containing the text 'PLACE A DEMAND FOR IT' in white, bold, sans-serif capital letters.

Bartimaeus cried out to Jesus because he was blind. He cried out to the One who could turn his condition around.

I no longer call you slaves, because a master doesn't confide in his slaves. Now you are my friends, since I have told you everything the Father told me. [16] You didn't choose me. I chose you. I appointed you to go and produce lasting fruit, so that the Father will give you whatever you ask for, using my name. (John 15:15-16 NLT)
