

Isaiah 10:1-3 KJV

[1] Woe unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, and that write grievousness which they have prescribed;

[2] To turn aside the needy from judgment, and to take away the right from the poor of my people, that widows may be their prey, and that they may rob the fatherless!

[3] And what will ye do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come from far? to whom will ye flee for help? and where will ye leave your glory?

Psalm 12:5 KJV

[5] For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, saith the LORD; I will set him in safety from him that puffeth at him.

Exodus 3:7, 9 KJV

[7] And the LORD said, I have surely seen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, and have heard their cry by reason of their taskmasters; for I know their sorrows;

[9] Now therefore, behold, the cry of the children of Israel is come unto me: and I have also seen the oppression wherewith the Egyptians oppress them.

God Isn't Silent To
The Struggle

He Feels The Internal Unrest

“When Power Hardens Into Cruelty,
God Intervenes.”

Power without righteousness invites divine opposition.

“God is angry with the oppressor.”

In Scripture, God's anger is not impulsive or humanly reactive—it is moral, righteous, and purposeful. His anger is consistently directed not at weakness, but at abuse of power.

God is not overlooking what is happening to you.

He is not asking you to endure injustice indefinitely.

He is attentive, active, and aligned with your deliverance.
