

"And God said, 'I will place my rainbow in the clouds, and it will become a sign of the promise between me and the earth... Never again will the waters become a flood and destroy all living things.'"