

Message Questions

Can you remember a time you were impacted by the character of another person?

Have you ever been the recipient of 'irrational kindness'? What was the experience like?

What have you learnt about King David's character? What has impressed you the most?

If one aspect of character is...it risks irrational kindness for the sake of another, are you a person of character?
Why or why not?