Q1. When you hear the term, Walking in the Spirit, what has typically come to mind for you?

Q2. The term flesh (Greek "Sarx") is a common religious word used in the church but not really outside of it.

When you hear it what have you typically attached the meaning to?

Do you think we have created anything a self-loathing imbalance to how we apply this in the context of scripture to ourselves

(ie: pleasure doesn't really fit into the truly Christian life?)

Q3. What does the wrestling match between the flesh and the Spirit look like for you?

Q4. Do you agree that selfishness is the root cause of our sinful nature?

How does the gospel story reflect this?
