

MESSAGE QUESTIONS

Have you ever built or created something only to have to deconstruct it? What was it? How did that feel? What was the end result?

Can you relate to the Israelites? Have you ever been convinced someone was doing something wrong, tempted to 'go to war', only to discover your assumptions were completely wrong?

Was this a difficult or an easy message for you to hear? Why is that? Did this message reinforce or challenge your thinking?

When it comes to the message title, "Is Unity Even Possible?" what is your answer? What do you base that answer on?
