When it comes to sci-fi shows, do you dislike them, love them or like them but don't always understand them?

Do you recognize any 'toxicity' in your own life? Without mentioning names, have you had to deal with toxic people? What was that like?

We've named six ways to blow up your life: Pride. Expose your life to poisonous people. Obey God...but not fully. Fail to delegate. Forget to pray...and Live with small expectations and faith. Which are you in danger of?

Do you feel like the winds of culture are on your back or in your face? Explain.
