

Message Questions

Do you see any of the same hesitations or cause of avoidance in your life like we discovered in David's?

How often do you think we compromise from taking what steps we know are right to take for the sake of avoiding a hard or uncomfortable conversation?

What are some ways we might react in a protectionist fashion rather than taking the vulnerable and riskier path of honesty about a situation?

How have you seen avoidance impact your life or world?