SERMON NOTES

Celebration

I. Defining Celebration

- The Circumstantial View is reactive and _____, meaning we only celebrate when things like game scores or promotions go well.
- The Biblical Rhythm is a proactive declaration of _____.
- Celebration is a _____ of life that does not wait for feelings; it rekindles joy through _____.

II. The Command to Party

- God commanded a special _____ tithe to be saved strictly for celebrations.
- This functioned as a dedicated "_____ fund".
- This practice ensured _____ regardless of personal hardship and prioritized community connection.

III. Simcha: Hebraic Joy

- Unlike internal "happiness," Simcha is _____ and collective.
- It is _____; God instructs His people to observe feasts when the calendar says so, not just when they feel like it.
- In every 7-year cycle, an Israelite had over _____ scheduled times to celebrate.

IV. The Physical Protocol (Nehemiah 8)

- "Eat the _____": We are to consume the richest, best portions because excellence in celebration honors God.
- "Send _____": You cannot truly celebrate if your neighbor is _____; Simcha is always outward-facing.
- "The joy of the Lord is your strength": Joy is a _____ (Ma'oz) that protects the soul.

V. Joy as a Fortress

- Celebration acts as "_____ Resistance" that mocks the darkness.
- It declares that the end of our story is a _____ feast, not a funeral.
- By celebrating God's goodness in the face of ruins, we build a _____ that the enemy cannot scale.
- Key Thought: Celebration is the act of deciding that God's _____ is more real than your current _____.

VI. How Do We Practice It?

- _____ the Ordinary:
- Practice _____
- _____ Shout:

Please fill out an attendance card and pass it to the end of the aisle.
