Showing Compassion

Talking to God

Ask God to help you see others as He sees them and to give you a heart of compassion for those who do not have a relationship with Him.

Diving In

Clear a space where you can walk blindfolded and not hurt yourself. Set the radio volume so it drowns out your normal speaking voice. On one side of the room, blindfold a family member. From across the room, have another person whisper directions that guide the blindfolded person to him or her. Ask the whisperer to gradually speak up until the blindfolded person can hear the directions and safely make it to the other side.

Going Deeper

One of the reasons that Jesus came into the world was to help the blind see (Luke 4:18-19). People who do not know God are like people who are blindfolded. They can't find their way to God and to His forgiveness and love. They are "spiritually blind" and need the guidance of God's truth to lead them. The noises of the world—such as people's differing opinions about God—often drown out the truth that would guide them.

Clear directions helped your blindfolded family member cross the floor amid the blaring sounds of a radio. Similarly, Jesus wants to help those who do not have a relationship with God find their way to Him. He is the way through the distracting noises of the world, and He has compassion on them because they are blind and confused. As followers of Christ, we should have the same attitude toward those who are spiritually blind.

Talking to Each Other

1. How did it feel to listen for or give directions with the distracting noise?
2. What "noises" might keep nonbelievers from hearing God's love for them?
3. How might you show compassion to the spiritually blind?

God Is In Control

This week, we journey through Ecclesiastes 7 to explore how wisdom, legacy, and perspective shape a life of faith. In a world that often feels chaotic, the Teacher reminds us that God reigns over both joy and sorrow. Through thought-provoking contrasts—mourning over mirth, rebuke over flattery—we're invited to embrace the hard things that refine us. Join us as we reflect on what it means to live wisely, leave a good name, and trust that even in adversity, God is still in control.

- I. A _____ name
 - a. "Fine Perfume" or "Precious Ointment" would be better translated _____.
 - b. It's about _____ rather than _____.
 - i. Legacy is shaped more by _____ than by _____.
 - ii. We're called to live with the end in mind, valuing _____ over fleeting _____.
- II. The _____.
 - a. The Wise do not _____ _____ _____.
- III. _____ from _____.
 - a. Being quick to _____ does not lead to a _____.
 - b. There is no such thing as the _____ _____.
- IV. _____ is in _____.
 - a. Don't be so _____ as to cut yourself off from the _____,
 - b. But don't be so _____ as look like the _____.
 - c. Be careful whom you _____ _____.

Questions for Reflection:

1. What does it mean to have a "good name" in your life right now?
2. What would it look like to trust God more fully in both blessing and trial?

Dios Tiene El Control

Esta semana, recorreremos Eclesiastés 7 para explorar cómo la sabiduría, el legado y la perspectiva dan forma a una vida de fe. En un mundo que a menudo parece caótico, el Maestro nos recuerda que Dios reina tanto sobre la alegría como sobre la tristeza. A través de contrastes que invitan a la reflexión —el duelo sobre la alegría, la reprensión sobre la adulación— se nos invita a aceptar las cosas difíciles que nos refinan. Acompáñenos a reflexionar sobre lo que significa vivir con sabiduría, dejar un buen nombre y confiar en que, incluso en la adversidad, Dios sigue teniendo el control.

We will leave Friday, September 26th, at 5:00 PM and plan to return Sunday, September 28th, by 5:00 PM. Invite a friend and watch for the packing list & more details soon! Contact Ivan Gonzalez at 405-923-4964 for more information.
