~ The Wound Affect III. ~ The Traveling Wound Prophetess Felecia Carter Wade

Everyone will encounter some type of wound in their life. Because we are human, we are imperfect beings interacting with imperfect beings. These interactions may cause wounds. Some wounds are intentionally done, and some wounds are unintentionally done. Wounds can turn into generational iniquity if wounds are not healed properly. They are passed on from generation to generation. It's called a traveling wound. A traveling wound is like a mental stronghold around someone's mind that was inflicted by someone in your bloodline who experienced that same type of wound. If that stronghold is not addressed and that wound stays open, it generates generational iniquity. It does not matter how it happened a wound can hurt, and it needs to be healed.

Altar Care

When an individual goes to the doctor for initial healing of a wound, the wound is given care to promote healing. The care of the wound depends on the depth of the wound. The individual may have to go to the ER. He/She may receive stitches. He/She may receive an injection. No matter the treatment, the individual will receive some discharge instructions. Those instructions will vary depending on the wound. We go to the doctor's office for natural healing, but the altar is available for other types of healing.

Last week (9-2-2023), Prophetess Felecia did an Altar Call for people with unhealed wounds. If you came to the altar, you had an opportunity to give your wounds (hurt) to God. God took your hurt, but living it is a renewal process. Even though you left the altar (the doctor's office), you have a responsibility to fulfill your discharge instructions. Your discharge instructions may require dressing your wound with ointment. Your ointment may be prayer. Your ointment maybe the Word. Your ointment may be taking spiritual authority and declaring and decreeing the promises of God. As a believer, you are responsible for applying the ointment, breaking down that stronghold, and taking authority. As a believer, it is your responsibility to tend to the wound to ensure its full healing to break the cycle of generational wounds.

Signs of an Unhealed Wound

1. Anger, bitterness, malice (evil intent), and unforgiveness. Ephesians 4: 31 - 32
2. Constantly talk about what happened to you.
3. Look for opportunities to share your pain with others to defame the person who inflicted the wound. That's your way of paying the person back for your hurt. If this is you, find a mature person to help you unpack the wounds so you may heal properly.
4. Can't say anything positive about the person who inflicted the wound.
5. Can't pray effectively and fervently for the person that hurt you. Give it to God and allow Him to heal your heart. When you can pray for the person who wounded you with a fervent heart affectionately, you know your heart is healed.
6. If you rejoice over negative news about the person who hurt you. 1 Corinthians 13: 4 - 6
7. Always looking for ways to vindicate yourself. As a believer, you are required to live peaceably with all men. Romans 12:17 - 18

Genesis 27:1 - 13

Isaac and Rebecca are the parents of Esau and Jacob. Isaac is old with dim eyes and close to death. He wants to bless Esau (oldest son) before he passes. He asks Esau to hunt and cook savory food for him. After he eats, he's going to bless him. Rebecca hears what Isaac said to Esau but wants Jacob to receive the blessing instead of Esau. Rebecca recalls Isaac's instructions to Esau and tells Jacob to get animals from the flock for her to cook and prepare for Isaac. Jacob knows this is wrong and is afraid of being cursed instead of blessed. Rebecca said, I'll take the curse just do as I say.

- ⇒ Rebecca demonstrated favoritism towards Jacob. The blessing was supposed to go to the older son.
- ⇒ Rebecca taught Jacob how to be a trickster (traveling wound from her family).

Genesis 29:13 - 26

When Laban heard the report of his sister's (Rebecca) son he ran to greet him and took him into his household. Jacob served Laban for about a month before Laban asked what he wanted in return of his services. Jacob said he would serve seven years for Rachel. Laban agreed. After the seven years ended, Laban gave him Leah (oldest daughter) instead.

- ⇒ Laban's trickster spirit (traveling wound) switched daughters. The youngest daughter wasn't supposed to marry before the oldest daughter.
- ⇒ The trickster spirit was a part of Laban.

- Traveling wounds become a part of your personality if they are not healed properly.
- Traveling wounds (generational iniquities) are sometimes given to our children unconsciously.
- Once you recognize and acknowledge a traveling wound, apologize if you have inflicted the wound on someone else.
- I decree Traveling wounds will no longer go through my blood line.
- You may have to separate from people in order not to be victimized over and over again.
- Do not sacrifice yourself for dysfunctional family members.
- God places people on your mind, so you will intercede for them.
- I release all anger, bitterness, and wrath so Holy Spirit can begin to flow through me the way He wants.
- 2 Corinthians 10: 3 – 6
 - The battle is not carnal. Stop trying to give people a piece of your mind.
 - The wounds have meshed with your mind and merged with your personality. Acknowledge the stronghold and address it. You stronghold of _____, by the power of Jesus and the authority I've been given I break you from my spirit. You will no longer act from my soul.
 - You must do the total opposite of what your soul wants to do.
 - You must stand on God's word.

Hardship often prepares an ordinary person for an extraordinary destiny.

Prayer

Holy Father, glory to your name. Father, I receive. I don't resist the hardships. I choose to release the wounds. Father, everything that was sent for my demise I choose to do the work to overcome it. Father in the name of Jesus, I thank you that every generational iniquity has been cast out of my bloodline. By the authority of the name of Jesus, I declare and decree that every stronghold be broken off my life now in Jesus name. The Bible says search me and find out if there are any wicked ways within me. God show me where the wound that's causing wicked ways to be in me. Show them to me Father. The wounds that are still open I acknowledge those. I'm asking you to forgive me. Forgive me for thinking those thoughts. Forgive me for acting out of the wounds of my heart. Forgive me for not doing the work and just acknowledging, but not addressing what I know is there in my life. Forgive me. Let your blood wash me and cleanse me from my unrighteousness. I repent and I break the cycle now. I break the generational iniquity I unpack the traveling wound suitcase. I say no longer will you travel throughout my bloodline. In the name of Jesus, I thank you for your blood cleansing me and washing me. Thank you for your blood cleansing my bloodline as I repent on behalf of those who opened the door for generational iniquity. I repent for the trickster spirit. I repent Holy One and I ask Holy Father that you allow your oil to flow where it was stopped up because of bitterness, malice, and unforgiveness in the name of Jesus. Thank you, Holy Father.
