Answer each of the following questions prompted by the text and/or today's sermon.

1. How would you describe the concept of “gleanings” in Biblical times and in what specific ways might that be relevant to us today?
2. Do you think of yourself as rich by your culture's standards? By the world's standards? Why or why not?
3. What does it mean to be content? If you were honest, what standard of living do you expect to be content?
4. How have you seen money be a destructive force in your own heart and life? In the lives of those you know?
5. What are a few ways you could simplify your standard of living to reach greater contentment in God?
6. What makes riches uncertain? How do we maintain focus on God, the giver, as opposed to the good gifts that He provides?
7. What does it mean to be rich in good works? What kind of foundation does this store up and prepare for us in the world to come?
8. How should the gospel affect how we relate to the good things God gives? How can we remain appreciative for all the things God gives and yet not lose our primary focus on the Giver Himself?
