

John wrote his _____ on Jesus' life and ministry to bring every person who read it to the _____ that would lead them from death to _____.

Jesus, as the preexistent _____ of all things, has brought _____ and _____ to all mankind.

Some _____ Jesus and the light that He brought to mankind, but others were _____ to His light and were _____ as sons and daughters of God.

What do you think it is that causes people to reject the Light?

Jesus became a man to _____ to us of the fullness of our _____ and _____ God.

What are some things that Jesus' life has explained to you about God?

God was sitting on a message just waiting to be delivered, an announcement 4,000 years in the making, the answer to the deepest and most important questions in the world. This all-important idea became human and dwelt among us, fully assuming our frailty and limitations. In doing this, Jesus, the unique Son from the Father, provided the visible living exegesis of God, explaining who God is, what God does, and how God thinks. He came packed full of real truth and abundant grace, serving as the fullest expression of God's character.

To reject this Word is to reject our reason for existence, but for those who receive Him and believe in His name, they get to experience grace upon grace and are reborn into a new and everlasting life.
