YOUR WILL BE DONE MINISTRIES

SUMMARY:

This sermon addresses the spiritual maturity transition from living as a child under bondage to the elements of the world (time, creation, and logic) to walking as a Son with authority over these elements.

Pastor Joshua challenges believers to recognize that most Christians are living in a "matrix"—a reality where they respond to stimulus (sensory input, emotion, then logic) rather than living from their spirit identity in Christ.

The message emphasizes that in Christ, our spirit has never been sick, worried, confused, or fearful, and that believers must learn to function from the inside out (spirit to soul to body) rather than outside in.

Through submission to God-ordained boundaries and tutors, believers can mature from childlike bondage to sonship authority, demonstrating the same power over time, creation, and logic that Jesus displayed. The sermon calls for an awakening of the sons of God who will walk in their true identity and make the elements of creation bow to their God-given authority.

KEY POINTS

- Believers are heirs and masters of all things in Christ, yet many live no differently than slaves because they remain spiritual children under guardians and stewards
- Three primary elements hold believers in bondage: time (the ordering of growth through stages and waiting), creation/stuff (limitation and abundance), and logic (the structuring of reality through understanding and reason)
- Jesus demonstrated sonship authority over all three elements: He controlled time (turning water to wine before His hour), commanded creation (calming storms, multiplying food), and defied logic (raising Lazarus after four days)
- The "matrix" most Christians live in follows this pattern: sensory input → emotion → logic (responding to stimulus from the outside in)
- True sonship operates in reverse: spirit/logos → soul alignment → sensory output (living from the inside out)

KEY POINTS //

- The fruit of the Spirit (love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance) is produced through submission to these God-ordained tutors, and against such there is no law
- In the Old Testament, the physical temple was built first and then the Spirit descended; in the New Testament, the Spirit descends first and regenerates the temple (our bodies)
- Belief is the bridge to embodiment—immeasurable power works within those who believe
- All creation groans and waits for the revealing of the sons of God who will walk in glorious liberty

STORIES

- The Matrix movie analogy: Believers living in a false reality (the Truman Show) where they don't understand their true identity and authority
- Noah building the ark: Pastor Joshua compares himself to Noah, preaching about something (sonship and authority over elements) that has never happened before in this way, asking people to "get on the boat" before the rain comes
- Jesus turning water into wine: Demonstrating authority over time by performing a miracle when He said "my hour has not yet come"

STORIES

- Jesus feeding the 5,000: Responding to lack with rest and thanksgiving, multiplying resources supernaturally
- Jesus raising Lazarus: Defying religious logic that said resurrection was impossible after four days
- Jesus sleeping through the storm: Demonstrating peace and authority over creation while disciples panicked
- The anointing of David: God judging the heart rather than outward appearance, seeing differently than humans see
- Pregnancy analogy: Hannah's illustration of how process cannot be rushed or evaded—each trimester has designated growth that would be dangerous to speed up or slow down
