

A dramatic, high-contrast image. In the center, a person with long, wavy brown hair, seen from behind, stands in a dark, arched doorway. They are wearing a simple, light-colored (possibly white or light grey) robe. The doorway is flanked by dark, textured walls. Outside the doorway, a brilliant, golden-yellow light fills the space, creating a strong backlight effect. In the upper part of this bright area, several figures appear to be floating or falling, their forms silhouetted against the intense light. The overall atmosphere is one of divine revelation or a journey into the sacred. The image is framed by dark, turbulent waves at the bottom and sides, suggesting a storm or a path through chaos.
