God's Omniscience with Mankind

- How can believing that God both knows and loves you completely help you to learn contentment in all circumstances?
- How can believing that God both knows and loves you completely help you to not seek praise from man? (I was not sure about this question, what do you think?)
- When we think about the fact that “the Lord searches all hearts and understands every plan and thought,” how can this help you trust in His judgment of mankind and believe that His judgment is perfect for every person?
- How many times does David use the word “know” or a similar word in Psalm 139:1-4?
- What does God know about you? Can you hide anything from God?
- Does anything good or bad in your life escape His notice or surprise him?
- What are common ways people try to escape and run from God?
- How do you see the interconnectedness of omniscience and omnipresence (and omnipotence) in Psalm 139?
- Knowing that God knows you well – having created you to be the special, unique person you are – how does your heart feel about that?

God's Omniscience with Creation

- In what ways does God's endless and perfect knowledge of creation help you believe that God knows what He is doing with your life? How can this help you not to worry?
