

Meditations of the Heart for the Heartland

(Day 57 of 60)

James 1:2-4

“My bretheren, count it all joy when you fall into various trials, knowing that the testing of your faith produces patience. But let patience have its perfect work, that you may be perfect and complete, lacking nothing.” (NKJV)

“My bretheren, count it all joy when you fall into various trials, knowing that the testing of your faith produces patience. But let patience have its perfect work, that you may be perfect and complete, lacking nothing.” (NIV)

The more we press into Yahshua and present His Kingdom throughout our lives, the more dangerous we become to the two Antichrist kingdoms - Babylon and self-effort Christianity (churchianity). Potential “trials” that come through this are actually signs along our journey that we are on the right road. Not all trials come from these two kingdoms. Some of our greatest difficulties come from our old nature, that before being born again used to dominate our soul. Now as we are becoming transformed into the image of Yahshua and deeper into His Kingdom, we are no longer slaves to this old slave master, and its cries of objection no longer have to concern us. We simply choose to abide deeper into Yahshua and let His finished work override those objections and continue moving forward in His Righteousness, Peace, and Joy helping Him bring needed change and True Life to this broken Cosmos.

Even though purposed engagement in the Heartland Assemblies and any other personal or corporate assignments is likely to stir up various trials, in Yahshua we will set our resolve, our perseverance, and begin to see His Kingdom come and Will be done on Earth as it is in Heaven, so the two realms can begin to become one, once again. He will bring Them together in His perfect timing, and it is an incredible privilege He desires for us to co-labor with Him.
