

<sup>1</sup> So the king and Haman went to dine with Queen Esther, <sup>2</sup> and as they were drinking wine on that second day, the king again asked, “Queen Esther, what is your petition? It will be given you. What is your request? Even up to half the kingdom, it will be granted.” <sup>3</sup> Then Queen Esther answered, “If I have found favor with you, O king, and if it pleases your majesty, grant me my life—this is my petition. And spare my people—this is my request. <sup>4</sup> For I and my people have been sold for destruction and slaughter and annihilation. If we had merely been sold as male and female slaves, I would have kept quiet, because no such distress would justify disturbing the king.” Write

Esther 8

That same day King Xerxes gave Queen Esther the estate of Haman, the enemy of the Jews. And Mordecai came into the PRESENCE of the KING, for Esther had told how he was RELATED to her. The king took off his SIGNET RING, which he had reclaimed from Haman, and presented it to Mordecai. TRUSTWORTHY

<sup>9</sup> At once the royal secretaries were summoned—on the twenty-third day of the third month, the month of Sivan. They wrote out all Mordecai’s orders to the Jews, and to the satraps, governors and nobles of the 127 provinces stretching from India to Cush.
