DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

Do you prefer time alone or would you rather be around people most of the time? What are some of the benefits of that tendency? What are some of the challenges?

Principle 1:

Relationships are not meant to fill a void.

Relationships are meant to be an extension of fullness.

Application: Give more attention and time to your dates with Him than them.

How would you currently describe your time with Him?

What challenges do you face in making a time with Him a priority?

Principle 2:

It's not good to be alone.

Application: Live in community.

How have you benefited from life in community?

What's an area of life you don't do well alone?

Principle 3:

Family is only family to the degree that you engage them.

Application: You're responsible for your community.

How are you intentionally engaging community?
