SCREAM Because...

I'm Too Desperate to Be Quiet!

INTRODUCTION

The scream behind the towel

2:00 in the morning.

The water running so nobody hears.

A towel pressed over your mouth.

We learned how to scream on mute.

No Excuse Not To Scream!

THE HUSH HARBORS

The world muted them. God heard them.

They prayed under overturned wash-pots in the woods at night. That scream was never meant for the bathroom floor. It was meant for heaven.

I'm too desperate...
...to be quiet!

So what you gonna do?
Unmute! Open Your Mouth and Scream!!

SCREAM!!

BACKGROUND

When every court says no,
there's one more court

The Judge hears the helpless

"If they cry at all... I will surely hear." — Ex 22:23

The cry reminds Him of His covenant

"God heard their groaning... and remembered." — Ex 2:24

Brokenness moves Him more than power

"The LORD is nigh unto them... of a broken heart." — Ps 34:18

POINT ONE · LUKE 8

Desperate enough to reach

“If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole.”

Mark 5:28

She didn't need a microphone. She needed a millimeter.

The crowd bumped Him...
...but she reached Him!

POINT TWO · MARK 10

Desperate enough to holler

“Many charged him that he should hold his peace: but he cried the more a great deal.”

Mark 10:48

And Jesus stood still.

“My miracle...”

“...is worth your awkwardness!”

Holler!!

POINT THREE

It's not only the volume. It's the direction.

	The woman	Bartimaeus
Faith	Silent reach	Loud holler
The barrier	Shame and a crowd	Blindness and a crowd
Jesus	Stopped the crowd	Stood still
The word	"Thy faith hath made thee whole"	"Thy faith hath made thee whole"

Don't aim it sideways...
...aim it up!

POINT FOUR · YOUR SCREAM HAS A SIGNAL THAT REACHES THE THIRD HEAVEN

- 1 It starts in your heart
“Pour out your heart before him.” — Ps 62:8
- 2 It travels through Jesus
“One mediator... Christ Jesus.” — 1 Tim 2:5
- 3 The Spirit carries it
“Groanings which cannot be uttered.” — Rom 8:26
- 4 It lands in His ears
“My cry came before him, even into his ears.” — Ps 18:6

With Jesus, there are no...
...dropped calls!

Why Are We too desperate to be quiet

Because Our children need to be saved.

Because Our families are in bondage.

Because this country is burying our young men.

Because bodies in this church need healing.

Because marriages are hanging by a thread.

Is there anybody else too desperate to be quiet?

SCREAM!!

DELIVERANCE!!

CELEBRATION

The world gives a release.
God gives a response.

- Israel cried in Egypt, and God came down.
- Our ancestors cried under the pots, and God brought them through.
- Hannah cried with no sound, and God gave her Samuel.
- The woman reached, and the bleeding stopped.
- Bartimaeus hollered, and Jesus stood still.

A pillow can't answer you. But Jesus can.

THE LOUDEST SCREAM IN HISTORY

“My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?”

Matthew 27:46 (KJV)

Friday, heaven went quiet.

Saturday, heaven was still on mute.

But early Sunday morning...

He got up!

The emergency room is open.

If you need to crawl, crawl.

If you can only whisper, whisper.

If you need to reach, reach for the hem.

If you need to holler, holler.

JESUS is in the House!

Take the towel off your mouth.
Jesus is standing still, and He's calling for you.

UNMUTE!

SCREAM!!
I'm Too Desperate to Be Quiet!

A group of people, including men, women, and children, are gathered in a church, holding hands and praying. They are dressed in formal attire. The church interior features a large cross on the wall, pews, and a stained glass window. The lighting is warm and dim, creating a solemn atmosphere.

Let's pray.

“Lord, Hear Our Scream!!! Don't just give us relief. Give us deliverance.”
