

BAPTISM

” I have grown up hopping from church to church and never really feeling a sense of belonging to any specific church. That said, I was constantly participating in local church events or helping out with child care, thinking that was the thing to do. All of these things are great, but I had no heart for God while I did them. Then in December 2014, my eighth grade year, I was challenged to read the Bible in a month. Needless to say, reading all of God’s Word in a month does something to your heart.

Gracie Martin

Eighth grade was the peak of my struggle with anxiety, even if I didn’t know it at the time. Looking back now, I realize that if God hadn’t intervened in my life, I would not be where I am today. I would have no goals and no hope for the future. Every day, I try to carry God’s love for myself and others.

God laid on my heart awhile ago that I needed to get baptized, but I disobeyed, like the sinner I am, making wonderful excuses about why it wasn’t the perfect time. As I step into college, I want to declare to the world that Jesus is my number one focus and I plan to live a life in pursuit of Him.
