

Walking With God's Will WEEK 3 – October 25, 2026

LIFEGROUP DISCUSSION GUIDE

ICEBREAKER

Since mentors will be discussed later in this discussion, what is one memorable piece of advice you have received that was either the absolute best, the funniest, or worst advice anyone ever gave you?

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. Trabelus openly shared his wrestle over whether he was genuinely being led by God to move back to Va Beach or simply using his dad's situation as an excuse because he was homesick. When you face major crossroads, how do you typically untangle your own personal preferences, comfort, or fears from what you feel God might be prompting you to do?
2. The sermon highlights that God often cares far more about who we are becoming than what we do or where we do it (such as the teacher choosing between two schools). Have you ever felt paralyzed trying to figure out the "one exact right move"? How does shifting your focus from making the perfect choice to living out Christlike character wherever you land change the way you view decision-making?
3. Read Romans 12:1-2. Notice the order Paul uses: we are called to be transformed by the renewal of our minds so that we can discern the will of God. Why do you think walking in God's will starts with our inner character and thought patterns rather than a list of do's and don'ts?
4. We often assume that walking in God's will means open doors and smooth sailing, yet the sermon notes that Paul faced intense opposition and hardship in the very places God led him. Have you ever experienced significant hardship, doubt, or friction while doing something you believed was right? What helped you stay grounded during that season?
5. The idea that God's silence is often permission to choose and not Him withholding His will from us can feel both freeing and intimidating. When you have prayed about a decision with multiple good, biblically permissible options and haven't heard a clear "yes" or "no," how do you usually respond? Does the freedom to choose bring you peace, or does it make you anxious?

6. Trabelus emphasized seeking trusted mentors who have permission to tell him things he might not want to hear, alongside the simple advice to "pray and do the next right thing." Who in your life has that kind of speaking permission into your decisions? What is one practical "next right step" in your life right now where the full picture isn't yet clear?
