What is your favorite harmless way to treat or indulge yourself? And what is it about that thing that you love so much?

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. Jake highlighted Ephesians 5:17, which tells us to "understand what the Lord's will is". Just before that, verse 10 urges us to "and find out what pleases the Lord." What do you think is the connection between God's will and what pleases him? How do you think we can learn what pleases him?
2. Read 1 Corinthians 8:1-13 aloud as a group. What is a truth or principle God wants us to grasp from this passage?
3. When we feel particularly confident in our own knowledge or rightness, how does 1 Corinthians 8:2-3 humble us? According to this passage, what is ultimately more important than what we know?
4. Where do you personally feel or witness tension today of what people interpret as right or wrong within God's will? (Think cultural gray areas, modern media, or lifestyle choices).
5. Jake called us to consider, "allowing your love to limit your liberty". What is a practical area of your life where you might choose to limit your personal freedom to do something out of love for a brother or sister in Christ?
