CHECK-IN: Check with the members of your group to see how they are doing.

- What plans do you have for October? (travel, holidays, etc.)

DISCUSS:

- Share what your thoughts are when you hear the phrase “End Times”. Do you gravitate towards hope or fear?

READ: Revelation 1:1-3, Matthew 23:36, Acts 1:6-7

- As we read these passages, keep these things in mind:
 - Don't be afraid of studying the end times.
 - Hold your end time perspectives loosely.
 - Be cautious with modern prophetic predictions.
- As we study the end times let's all agree to have an open mind. Let's talk about how we can relate.
 - What have you gained from studying various topics?
 - How have you handled disagreements relating to the Bible in past conversations?
 - What did you learn from that and how will it help you over the next several weeks?
 - When you see in the scriptures that the date and time is unknown, how does that make you feel? (ie.concerned, peaceful, curious, fearful)

READ: Revelation 22:17, Acts 1:6-7

- This weekend we talked about four different viewpoints when it comes to discerning the End Times: Historic Premillennialism, Dispensation Premillennialism, Amillennialism, Postmillennialism. Specifically stating that there are things from each viewpoint that can be tied back to scripture. The important thing is that we know Christ!
 - When you think back to the message and the four main views on the end times, what other questions come to mind? Write those down to see if we get to them over the next few weeks.
 - After listening to the first week in this series, are you moving to clarity or confusion?

DISCUSS:

- What are you hoping to gain over the next few weeks of this series?
- Is there anyone you can share this series with? If yes, who? If not, pray for God to lead you to someone who could find it beneficial.
- Who can you be praying for this week as they hear this series?

Pray to close.
