CHECK-IN: Think of a time something broken got fixed or restored, an old car, a friendship, a piece of furniture, anything. What made that restoration meaningful to you?

Read John 3:5-6

- Jesus is doing more than getting us into heaven, He's making all things new. Does that change how you think about what it means to be saved?
- Where in your life do you need to believe Jesus can bring life to something that feels dead?

READ: John 3:14-16

- The Israelites couldn't fix themselves, they just had to trust what God provided. What are some ways we try to earn God's love instead of just trusting Him?
- Are you living like someone who's been brought home to the Father, or like you're still trying to earn your way back?

READ: John 3:16

- Believing in Jesus is more than just agreeing He's real, it's trusting Him with your life. How would you describe the difference?
- "We don't need renovation, we need resurrection." Where do you find yourself trying to just improve, when what you really need is new life from Jesus?

READ: Luke 15:31-32

- What do you think the father means when he says, "everything I have is yours"? How might that change the way we see our relationship with God?
- What might it look like for us to stop behaving like servants and start living like family?

APPLY:

Take a few minutes of quiet before opening this up to the group.

- What part of your life, your heart, your relationships, your past, feels most in need of the restoring work of Jesus right now?

- Restoration doesn't always mean a relationship gets repaired exactly how we want, or that every wound stops hurting. Is there a place where you've confused restoration with something that isn't safe or wise to pursue right now?
- Nicodemus had religion, knowledge, and morality, and Jesus still told him he needed to be born again. Is there an area where you've been relying on your own resume with God instead of trusting what only He can do?

PRAYER TIME: Close by praying together over the broken places named tonight. Invite people to silently bring to mind one thing that feels broken, whether that's a relationship, a wound, a habit, or their own heart. Pray something like:

"Jesus, You restore what sin has broken. Thank You that You didn't just come to fix us, but to give us new life. We bring You the broken places in our lives tonight, the ones we've named and the ones we're still afraid to name. Where we've been trying to earn our way back to You, bring us home instead. Where we feel dead, breathe life. All of us, all for You. Amen."
